Announcement Number: NW1801

Opening Date: 11/1/2004

Closing Date: 11/15/2004

Location: This position is located in the Office of the Inspector General (IG), Commander, Navy Installations (CNI) command, which is located at the Anacostia Naval Station, Washington, D.C.

Area of Consideration: Current Federal Employees & Veterans Employment Opportunity Act of 1998 (VEOA) Eligibles

About Us: The mission of the Office of the Inspector General is to provide CNI with independent, impartial investigations and review of operations and controls to ensure that personnel, equipment and other resources are employed effectively, securely, economically, and within legal and administrative constraints and that morale, discipline and integrity are of the highest standards. The areas of investigation may include, but are not limited to: fraud, waste, and abuse; related improprieties; military and civilian personnel management; acquisition; financial management; program management; logistics; information systems; and safety. CNI is an echelon II command reporting directly to the Chief of Naval Operations (CNO), and is the single command and Navy point of contact responsible for the management, policy, funding, practices, procedures and program execution oversight of Navy shore installations.

About the Job: The supervisor of this position is the CNI Inspector General. The incumbent acts as an investigating official by performing duties associated with the Navy's fraud, waste, abuse, mismanagement, and related improprieties hotline system. The work contributes directly to the operational mission readiness, material readiness, and financial condition of CNI and all subordinate commands. The incumbent is responsible for investigating cases concerning fraud, waste, abuse and other improprieties. The incumbent serves as the manager of the Department of Defense (DoD) IG, Navy, and the command's complaint hotline programs with oversight responsibility for all investigations conducted worldwide within the command. The incumbent manages the Remedies Plan Program, which is required to be implemented by DoD directives and Navy instructions for significant procurement fraud investigations, and to assure all possible criminal, civil, contractual, and administrative remedies are identified to cognizant procurement and command officials. The incumbent participates in on-site self-assessment command inspections of Regional commands, providing inspection overview of the Echelon III Regional command's program management for the detection and prevention of fraud, waste and abuse; conduct of investigations; and management of Hotline cases.

The incumbent of this position must:
have or be eligible for a Secret security clearance possess a current passport and
be available for travel on short notice.
